*Directed by Ken Tucker

The action of the play takes place on two summer evenings: Friday, at the desirable home of Gayle and Martin Walsh and a week Saturday, in the somewhat 'rough and ready' home of Sheila and Ray Gibbon. Both couples form integral parts of a property chain where vendors and purchasers have more than a few ulterior motives. As events unfold the action switches between the two evenings on several occasions providing tantalising glimpses of the machinations involved in a rather unorthodox property chain.

*There will be a 15 minute Interval during which the Riverside Bar will be open.
You can pre-order Interval Drinks before the play commences.*

Director's Notes

Welcome to what could well be a rather confusing evening! This play has presented us with some interesting challenges — a split set combined with a plot line that switches between two separate evenings! Confused yet? We hope that by the end of the evening you will have followed the frantic happenings when three couples attempt to sell their respective houses. Vickery is a writer famed for his one liners and sharp dialogue and this play is no exception.

We welcome two new players tonight: Caroline Davies and Leanne Lok. We hope that this will be the first of many productions for them.

We have been saddened by the recent loss of two members. Felicity Cross Hardwick and her father Trevor Cross both made a major contribution to our society. Trevor was one of the original members and gave over 63 years of devoted service and has a very special place in our hearts. They will both be greatly missed.

Many thanks to the cast and crew for their loyalty and hard work on this project.

Ken Tucker
